President's Message

I hope everyone is keeping warm as we work our way through another winter. Our hobby activity has been hot this time of year so I hope that helps. Let me bring you up to date. In January we had our yearly Swap Meet at the Grace United Methodist Church. It was the usual cast of characters and everyone I talked to seemed to really enjoy the trading, selling and talking about the hobby. I really enjoy these sessions as it gives me an opportunity to catch up on a lot of hobby and local history background that there is just not time for at a normal business meeting. Thanks to all who helped to make it a great day. Special thanks to Dot Hajek and Marge Burford for the work in providing lunch and dessert.

We also had a real special meeting in February at the Baltimore Museum of Industry. We had a decent crowd for our normal business meeting and auction. This was followed by a museum tour led by Russ Sears who did an outstanding job of taking the group through all the exhibit areas and providing very interesting historical background and perspective. Participation was appreciated as members such as Len Cicero also provided personal perspective in areas they had experience such as the print shop. It was a real good dose of local history. Thanks to Russ Sears who worked with the museum to set up our visit and for the great tour.

We also have several members who are in the midst of health challenges. Our positive thoughts go out to John Hammond, Bob Ruby, Mill Hajek and Karl Keller. Get well and hope you are back with us very soon.

We also had a real competative 30th Anniversary Medal Design Contest. We had over twenty designs submitted from five contestants. A major congratulations goes out to Les White who had the winning design. Thanks also to the design committee (Bill Stratemeyer, Bill Lenz & Jim Boswell) for their quick work in design review. Lester will receive a silver medal with his winning design for his efforts. Thanks to Les and all the other designers. You can see the winning design at the next meeting and sign up to order your own copy of our silver anniversary medal.

We also have an election coming up at the June annual meting. Below is the current slate of officers being put forward. Notice that they are all unopposed at this time. Feel free to run for an office; otherwise, this will be your only choice at the June election. Let me know if you decide to run.

I have found S. Schmidt in the Baltimore newspapers and directories from 1844 to 1871. He first appeared in the 1852 newspaper advertising a lost item. He advertised his hair dye in the 1855 newspaper. Below are some of the ads.

July 27, 1852 (Sun Papers, Baltimore)
LOST - The subscriber lost his book of Deposit No. 256,775 -- in the name of Sebastian Schmidt, with the Savings' Bank of Baltimore of no use to any but the owner. Sebastian Schmidt, Wheelwright, Short street, near Britain Street.

THE CIRCUS IS COMING ,
THE CIRCUS IS COMING ! !

BY : W.Wallace Stone R-47

In the period after the Civil War and until just after the first World War American circuses would announce their upcoming events throughout the country by renting space on local farmers' barn sides to place large heavy gauge paper advertisements. These multi colored animated signs were called "Broadsides" and they exaggerated for the most part the joys, thrills and excitement of the circus ! These signs would name the town, date and time of the performances, as well as the grand arrival of the circus in the town railroad station. There would be a grand parade from the station to the grounds designated as the circus area. Today this is a thing of the past, other than newspaper and television advertising, small handbills are left for complimentary pickup at high traffic spots in and around town. Banks, Supermarkets, convience stores just to name a few such places of business.

BY ANDREW PARSONS — PRESS ASSOCIATION VIA ASSOCIATED PRESS

In an annual tradition, clowns gather at Holy Trinity Church in East London for a service honoring Joseph Grimaldi, a Briton who died in 1837 and is widely considered the father of modern clowning. The service also celebrates the human need to laugh.
